

PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy outlines how Dover Stage Festival, collects, uses, protects, and shares personal information, including confidential data collected throughout the process of entering and attending the festival.

Information Collection and Use

We collect personal information from participants, teachers, guardians, chaperones, and other individuals involved in our festival. This information may include:

- Name, age, and contact details (address, email address, phone number)
- Emergency contact information
- Payment details for registration fees
- Images and videos captured during the festival and related events
- Any additional information voluntarily provided

We use this information to:

- Facilitate registration for competitions and events
- Communicate important updates and information
- Ensure the safety and well-being of participants
- Capture and share the experience through images and videos to use for promotional material

Data Protection and Security

We are committed to protecting the confidentiality, integrity, and security of the personal information we collect. We implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to safeguard personal data against loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction.

Sharing of Information

We may share personal information with:

- Third-party service providers: We may engage third-party service providers to assist with various aspects of our operations, such as event management, payment processing, and marketing. These service providers are contractually obligated to protect the confidentiality of personal information and to use it only for the purposes specified by us.
- Competitors and spectators: Images and videos captured during competitions and related events may be shared on our website, social media channels, and promotional materials, with the consent of the individuals depicted.
- Legal obligations: We may disclose personal information when required to do so by law or in response to valid legal requests, such as court orders or subpoenas.

Data Retention

We retain personal information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including legal, accounting, and reporting requirements. When personal information is no longer needed, we securely delete or discard it.

Your Rights

Individuals have certain rights regarding their personal information, including the right to:

- Access: Request access to the personal information we hold about them.
- Rectification: Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete personal information.
- Erasure: Request deletion of personal information, subject to certain limitations under applicable law.
- Restriction: Request restriction of processing of personal information, under certain circumstances.
- Objection: Object to processing of personal information, under certain circumstances.
- Portability: Request transfer of personal information to another party, where technically feasible.

To exercise these rights or for any inquiries regarding our privacy practices, individuals may contact us using the contact information provided below.

Updates to this Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or applicable laws. Any updates will be posted on our website, and we encourage individuals to review this Privacy Policy periodically.
